

Erin Videgar-Laird will be leaving the role of Student Ministries Director in mid-July. Her husband, Ryan, will be starting in a PhD program at University of North Carolina and they are moving to Chapel Hill, NC. Erin will still be involved with students and serving at Crossroads through the remainder of the school year and will be leading the Philadelphia Project mission trip.

It is a bittersweet decision, with plenty of excitement alongside plenty of loss. Please feel free to reach out to Erin at evidegarlaird@crossroadsnova.org with any questions.
